Areas of expertise:

Experience of a wide range of construction and engineering projects covering both contentious and non-contentious advice, including PFI and major projects work, contract structures and procurement strategies.

Advising on a variety of construction documentation, including drafting partnering contracts; amendments to standard form building and engineering contracts; and reviewing/drafting warranties, performance bonds, guarantees and appointments of consultants. Currently advising a utility sector client on the draft contracts for a major £800 million upgrade programme over a 7-8 year period.

Acting on behalf of contractors and major sub-contractors on a whole range of disputes ranging from adjudications, TCC litigation, arbitration, mediation, conciliation and expert determination.

David also regularly presents seminars (both in-house and externally) on a wide range of current construction and engineering subjects.
